

“Wine is bottled poetry”

Robert Louis Stevenson

Wine is more than a simple beverage, it is art

Wine is style, passion, love and a way of living

It indulges all your senses

Wine is both a pleasure and an interest, both sensuous and intellectual

It relinquishes most when these two sides of its personality are balanced

When the full character of wine matches food or occasion to perfection and its nuances of flavour excite comparison with other wines and vintages.

The true satisfaction of wine lies in its balance between everyday enjoyment and esoteric experience

"My only regret in life....I did not drink more Champagne"

John Maynard Keynes

Rosé

Rosé is a type of wine that is neither purely red wine nor purely white wine. It is made from red-skinned grapes with the skins removed from contact with the pressed juice after a short period, rather than left in contact throughout fermentation as with red wine making. As the skins contain much of the strongly flavored tannin and other compounds, this leaves the wine tasting more similar to a white wine.
